

V-Montana (Sideboard)

The sideboard of the furniture line V-Montana consists of polarizing play between unique nature of wood and cool straightness of glass.

The basic processing of wood – splitting – displays the authentic character of the material in true nature.

The archaically impressing wood structures are part of the tension against the matt and satinized glass front – therefore forming a new furniture design.

Due to the unique splitting design of wood, each furniture piece becomes a really unique piece.
